Stearns' Web site ranked second

Stearns County's Web site is once again ranked as one of the best in the United States. It ranked second in the 2008 Center for Digital Government survey in its population category of less than 150,000.

Stearns County added a jail roster search, court/criminal case records search, interactive property maps and crime maps in the past year. Use has grown as residents turn to the Web to fill out job applications, reserve park shelters, pay property taxes online and perform other tasks.

The Digital Government Survey is an awards program that recognizes state, city and county government Web sites that are innovative and user-friendly and provide public services online. Web sites are judged on more than 100 measurements in online service delivery, technology infrastructure, design, standards and policies.
